Annual Report

Chairman's Report

All things considered 2001 was another outstanding year, both on and off the field. In the Union's Centenary Year the standard, depth and profile of Suburban Rugby continues to improve through a talented and committed administration; a forward thinking management committee and a democratic process that caters for all Suburban Clubs. Above all is the overriding belief in 'The Game for the Game itself'.

The reduction in our NSWRU grant by 50% ($77500) resulted in considerable financial constraints placed upon our Union. The resultant deficit of less than $20,000 is, under the circumstances, quite satisfactory. Over the past few years the Union's philosophy of "working smarter not harder" certainly reaped results in 2001. One of the innovations introduced this year was SMS messaging which enabled tables and results of all matches to be sent to mobile phone users by 6pm on match day. It is our intention to broaden the usage of SMS to generate additional income in 2002 both within and outside the Union. The Union continued with its on-line results database which this year was adopted by the Australian Rugby Union and launched nationally. The introduction of on-line player registrations gave club administrators the ability to maintain their own player registration records. The Union's Internet site www.rugby.net.au remains one of the most valuable resources and its potential to ease the workload of volunteer officials as well as improve lines of communication will continue to be maximised. We are also looking to provide our clubs with best practice systems to assist primarily with internal club management.

The financial difficulties also caused some of the Union's activities, particularly in relation to Colts Representative teams and Centenary Celebrations to be cancelled. The inability to have the history of our first 100 years written by Tom Hickie was also a major disappointment but we have not entirely given up hope that we may be able to achieve this in the near future. It was also rewarding that years of financial prudence enabled us to withstand the impact of the reduction and we were not forced to levy the clubs. The Union is currently assessing its activities for the 2002 season as the level of funding from NSWRU will remain at current levels for at least the next three years.

The importance of Union sponsors now takes on a new dimension as we try to fill the void left by the grant reduction. A special thanks to the Union's new major sponsor Interfuse who provide the Union with a first rate Internet site as well as keeping the Union at the cutting edge of technology. The Union has a band of loyal and long serving sponsors including Coca-Cola, Gilbert Footballs, Canterbury, Ricoh, Beiersdorf Australia (Leuko) and Australian Rugby Review all of whom provide great services to the clubs and assist in defraying the cost of playing rugby. The Union also thanks Big Sister Laundry and Icons of Sport for their support throughout the year.

The Union continues to support and assist the Sydney Junior Rugby Union with the primary focus on addressing and reducing the drop out rate between senior and junior rugby by providing a player pathway and by improving and streamlining administration. The appointment of a Junior Administrator in 1998 fully funded by our Union was an important step in the ongoing development of grassroots Rugby and we are well placed to tackle the expected increased demands placed upon it. Despite the current difficulties we are committed to ongoing support for Juniors and just as importantly they are committed to us. The benefits of such a policy will begin to be felt by our clubs in the not too distant future and there are indications that in some areas this may be already starting to happen.

The Union's Management Committee must be congratulated for its tireless work and dedication in 2001 and due to their vision and insight the Suburban Rugby Union continues to forge ahead. My thanks to the Union's staff who administer the largest centrally organised rugby competition in the world with a high degree of professionalism and a strong emphasis on servicing member clubs. To drive that point home consider this: A full time staff of three and one part time administer competitions for 14,500 players. The Union's Judiciary members must also be thanked for their ongoing support. Those members of the Appeals Tribunal, various sub-committees, working parties and final series ground marshals must be acknowledged for their efforts this year. Congratulations to Peter Duckworth and his team for another highly successful representative campaign which saw the Union retain the Barraclough Shield against Queensland Suburban at the Gabba.

The Union's Division One Grand Final Day at T.G. Millner Field provided a splendid finale to the 2001 season. It was so good to be back there. Congratulations must be extended to St Ives on their victory which was made all the more remarkable given that it was the Clubs first year in Division One following promotion at the end of the 2000 season.

To those clubs, players and officials, thank you once again for your support and you can be assured that the Union is in an extremely healthy position. Have a safe and enjoyable off season (is there such a thing anymore?) and we look forward to your participation next year.

Yours in Rugby,

Ian Ross

Management Committee Report

Members of the NSW Suburban Rugby Union (NSWSRU) Management Committee are elected at the NSWSRU Annual General Meeting. All Clubs are represented on the Management Committee through their Divisional Representative. All Committee members have vast experience in rugby administration and come from a variety of business backgrounds. Elected members devote their time in an honorary capacity and ensure that the NSWSRU is in the best capable hands. The Committee met on twelve occasions throughout the year. In addition to this all Committee members sit on a sub-committee that specialise in particular areas such as; Finance, Centenary, Policy, Competitions, Rules, Coaching & Representative Programs. These sub-committees formulate recommendations that are presented to the Management Committee for approval. The Union is represented on the NSW Rugby Union Board by Brent Halligan whilst a constitutional change in March 2000 saw the Executive Officer become a voting member of the NSWSRU Management Committee for the first time, which is working particularly well.

Executive Officer's Report

The 2001 season signified the 100th year of Suburban Rugby. The sub-district competition was founded in 1901 during a professionalism debate within the Metropolitan Rugby Union – the City and Suburban Rugby Union was established to promote camaraderie and the social side of rugby, an ethos which the NSW Suburban Rugby Union still maintains 100 years on.

No one could have predicted the advances the NSWSRU has made since its humble beginnings in 1901. 2001 saw the continuation of a concerted effort by the Union to improve its technological capabilities which included the promotion of on-line player registrations which was coupled with on-line result sheets giving club secretaries instant access to their registered players lists as well as eligibility for final series. A new service was also offered to clubs this year whereby all match results and tables were SMSed through to a designated mobile phone by 6pm on match day. It is envisaged that this technology will have a greater role in the future specifically in the area of clubs communicating directly with players. The advancement of technology has also realised significant cost savings in the area of postage which has seen a 75% decrease over the last two years.

With the need to be financially prudent given the reduction in allocation of funds from NSW Rugby the Union's U19s and U21s Representative Program was disbanded. However in the Union's Centenary year the Senior Representative team played two matches; beating Central Coast by a record score of 57-0 and then retaining the Barraclough Shield 24-19 against Queensland Suburban at the Gabba. With the assistance of NSW Rugby another highly successful Level I Coaching Course was run specifically for NSWSRU Coaches with in excess of 25 coaches in attendance.

103 final series matches were contested Sydney wide utilising ten venues including Peter Hislop Park, T.G. Millner Field, Warringah Rugby Park, David Phillips Field, Drummoyne Oval, Tunks Park, Dwyer Oval, Cliff Oval, Norford Park and Granville Park. All matches were well attended and gate receipts were on par with last year's record year. St Ives won their first Kentwell Cup since 1976 overcoming Drummoyne in the later stages of the match to win 34-20. Whilst Waverley managed to win the Barraclough Cup in their third consecutive Grand Final appearance.

The Union welcomed Appin into the Division Five (two team) competition. Appin had been part of the Illawarra Country region however a lack of suitable competitions saw the Union expand its boundaries and embrace the team in 2001.

The NSWSRU continued to support the Sydney Junior Rugby Union through the employment of a Juniors Administrator as well as providing expertise in the area of competition management. In January 2001 the Union absorbed the administration of Sydney Women's Rugby and were able to accommodate their competition management into our current infrastructure. It is envisaged that this relationship will continue in 2002.

The Union thanks the invaluable contributions made by its sponsors including Coca-Cola, Ricoh, Gilbert, Canterbury International, Australian Rugby Review, Icons of Sport, Big Sister Laundry and Beiersdorf Australia. An increased commitment by Interfuse has seen them take over as the Union's major sponsor for the next two years. The Union acknowledges the invaluable support of the Australian Rugby Union and NSW Rugby Union both financially and administratively.

The Union continues to forge ahead on the back of a number of Committees comprising individuals who give up their time in an honorary capacity. The Union's Management Committee, Judiciary, Appeals Tribunal as well as numerous sub-committees and volunteers who contribute throughout the year are all integral members of the Union and without whom we could not exist.

The office staff of James Durbin, Andrew Knevitt (Juniors) and Sherdian Mury provide clubs with an exceptional level of service, their dedication and professional approach is highly regarded and is an integral part of the success of Suburban rugby. One of the highlights of 2001 was the Union's black-tie W.W. Ellis Medal and Centenary Celebration Dinner which was held at Dockside, Cockle Bay. 95 year old Stan Simpson who was a member of the 1938 Suburban Representative Team stole the show when he addressed the dinner and cut the Centenary Cake earning a standing ovation. A display of Suburban memorabilia dating back the last 100 years was also well received.

Congratulations to those Clubs that won premierships and minor premierships, club of the year awards as well as our W.W. Ellis Medallists. Thank you to the players, coaches, club administrators, referees and supporters all of whom have contributed to a highly successful 2001 season and I look forward to your continued support of the Union in the future.

Judiciary Report

Following the departure of long serving Judiciary Chairman Philip Brown in 2000 Mark Groom was appointed as Chairman for the 2001 season. Tony Beger (Deputy Chairman) and Jim Melrose returned from 2000 whilst the Union welcomed newcomer Scott Hall-Johnston onto the Committee.

The Judiciary met on 24 occasions during the year and presided in over 100 cases including a range of matters arising from Suburban, Sydney Junior and Sydney Women's Competitions. Matters included such things as; send offs, breaches of the Code of Conduct by a player or club, citings, protests and any other issue referred to them by the Management Committee. The Judiciary's job is made all the more difficult due to the lack of video evidence, which necessitates relying on the referee's report, the player's version of events and eyewitness testimony. The Judiciary is well served by James Durbin who provides up to the minute computerised judicial records for clubs and players allowing the Judiciary to make informed and consistent decisions.

Unfortunately incidences of referee misconduct increased in 2001, this is disappointing given that referee's like most players do not get paid to referee and actually pay for the privilege. The Judiciary has taken a hard line against referee abuse and misconduct over the last couple of seasons and this will continue to ensure that this type of misconduct is removed from the game. During the year the Judiciary handed out a total of 225 weeks of suspension to Suburban players (not including two lengthy suspensions that were in excess of 12 months each). It is pleasing to note that only four clubs exceeded their tolerable level of proven offences and in each case the level was only exceeded by one.

The Union appreciates the huge amount of time that Mark, Tony, Jim and Scott contribute throughout the year in what is undoubtedly the most time consuming voluntary position in Suburban Rugby.

Utilising the superb facilities of Warringah Rugby Park and the Sydney Sports Academy for training purposes coach Peter Duckworth and Peter Gray prepared a comprehensive training program which included guest coaching appearances by Gary Ella and Brian O'Shea.

Match Reports

NSWSRU vs Central Coast at Narara Sunday 17 June 2001

The team traveled to Carrington Rd Oval, Narara for their annual match against Central Coast. With Suburban holding the upper hand having won the fixture six out of seven occasions the team was confident going into the match. Showing no ill effects from tough matches the day before, Suburban scored their first try in the 8th minute of play with Chris Atkins (Hunters Hill) darting over from a maul close to the line. It was not until the 33rd minute of play that Suburban were able to put their second try on the board with Mark Colless (Colleagues) crossing out wide. With the score at the half time break 12-0 the Suburban side knew that if they could convert the first half pressure into points that a victory was in sight.

With the second half only 4 minutes old, the avalanche started with a try to Mark Hutchinson (Mosman). Six more tries followed with Suburban comprehensively beating Central Coast by a record score and margin of 57-0. Moe Ravuvu (St Patricks) was devastating from fullback with his counter attacking a feature whilst half back Chris Atkins was outstanding.

Scores: NSWSRU 57 (R. Ashton 2, U. Batigai 2, C. Atkins, M. Colless, M. Hutchinson, S. McGowan, C. Bird tries, D. Braithwaite 4, S. McGowan 2 goals) defeated Central Coast 0.

Scrums Central Coast 12 -5, Penalties 5-4, Lineouts NSWSRU 6-5

NSWSRU vs Queensland Suburban at the Gabba Saturday 30 June 2001

With the squad narrowed down to a touring party of 22 players, the team traveled to Queensland. The match against Queensland Suburban was played as a curtain raiser to the Australia versus British & Irish Lions Test at the Gabba. The team was honoured to have Simon Poidevin present the jerseys and talk to the players in the change rooms prior to kick-off. An early penalty goal by Queensland Suburban in the 3rd minute gave Queensland a 3-0 lead. In the 11th minute following sustained pressure by the NSWSRU forwards the ball was spun wide for winger Billy Rainima (Hunters Hill) to score in the corner. A penalty goal stretched the NSW lead to 8-3. A brilliant piece of work by Moe Ravuvu saw a grubber kick put through a quick chase saw Moe toe the ball through again for Billy Rainima to fall on the ball over the line. NSW went into the half time break with a lead of 13-6. A penalty goal to Dougald Braithwaite in the first minute after the break saw NSW lead stretch to 16-6. Queensland's first try came two minutes later with their centre diving over. The two teams then exchanged penalty goals and with 10 minutes to go NSW were leading 19-14. Queensland found NSW short on the blind side and scored to level at 19 all with 7 minutes to go. NSW then went on attack and peppered the Queensland line, dominating the Queensland scrum for the next five minutes with attacking raids thwarted by terrific Queensland defence. With 2 minutes left on the clock vice captain Chris Atkins dived over from a maul close to the line to score the winning try.

Score NSW 24 (B. Rainima 2, C. Atkins tries, D. Braithwaite 2, S. McGowan penalty goals) defeated Queensland Suburban 19
